Re: Fifth's Disease Outbreak

On _____, the _____ staff was notified about a confirmed outbreak of Fifth's disease at our school via the attached Department of Health and Mental Hygiene letter from our school nurse. The notification letter identified "at risk" groups including pregnant women. I am pregnant and my obstetrician has advised me that I am at increased risk of infection. I underwent serologic testing for the antibody and I have no immunity to this disease. Exposure to infectious individuals may have a harmful effect on my unborn baby. I have not been in school since _____.

I am requesting a temporary transfer until the outbreak ceases and my obstretrician says I am no longer at risk.

Sincerely,
