- ❖ Overview of the School Guidance Counseling Function
- ❖ Collaboration: A Key School Counselor Function
- ❖ Comprehensive School Counseling & Guidance
- ❖ School Counselor Deliverables
 - Academic Planning
 - Career-Postsecondary Planning
 - Personal-Social Development

Overview of the School Counseling Function

Professional School Guidance Counselors, in collaboration with key educational stakeholders, develop comprehensive programs for students in Pre-Kindergarten through High School graduation, impacting on students' academic achievement, personal-social development and preparedness for career and postsecondary success:

The 3 Domains of School Counseling

Overview of the School Counseling Function

❖ Young people today live in exciting and demanding times with an increasingly diverse society, evolving technologies and expanding opportunities in a competitive global economy.

❖ As they transition from childhood through adolescence and young adulthood, students are faced with multifaceted challenges impacting achievement and readiness for postsecondary success.

Professional School Guidance Counselors are in a unique position to collaboratively build on students' strengths and identify and address challenges that may hinder student success!

Professional School Counseling

attends to child & young adolescent development

During Elementary School Years, Students...

- Begin to develop self-concept
- Begin to develop life skills
- Develop and acquire distinct attitudes

During Middle School Years, Students...

- Experience rapid growth and change
- Need to explore interests
- Need high levels of activity
- Search for their own unique identity
- May be extremely sensitive
- Develop reliance on friends

(ASCA, 2005)

Professional School Counseling

attends to adolescent & young adult development

During High School Years, students...

- Experience a final transition into adulthood
- Explore who they are and who they will become
- Are influenced by their peers
- Are faced with increased social and academic pressures
- Need support to make decisions that focus on future success

(ASCA, 2005)

Professional School Counseling

assists students to explore fundamental questions...

Who am I?

Where am I going?

How will I get there...?

- What makes me who I am?
- How do I learn best?
- How will the choices I make now impact on my future?
- In what ways is education essential?
- What is success?
- What does it mean to be a good student?
- How do my beliefs influence what happens to me?
- How can we create change in ourselves and our communities?

Vision Student Success

Collaborating with school administrators and multiple stakeholders in advocating for programs and services that positively impact student success.
