

C1:

This is the basic salary for those who have only a bachelor's degree.

C1+PD:

This column applies only to teachers hired before 1970.

C2:

This is called the first differential. It requires 30 credits beyond the bachelor's degree requirement. These may be all excess undergraduate credits, all graduate credits, or a combination of both.

C2+ID:

This column, the intermediate differential (ID), applies to people who have earned their first differential and in addition have 60 credits beyond the bachelor's.

C2+PD:

This is called the promotional differential or PD. It requires 36 credits in an approved subject matter area; those 36 credits may be undergraduate, graduate, or a combination. Generally speaking, you qualify when you get your master's degree.

C2+ID+PD:

This is for people who have met the requirements for the first differential, the intermediate differential and the promotional differential.

C6+PD:

This is the second differential. It can be achieved in several ways:

- With a master's degree plus another 30 credits that were taken after the date of your bachelor's but not as part of your master's credits. The credits can be from undergraduate or graduate courses.
- With professional development courses and/or activities approved by the chancellor.
- By getting National Board for Professional Teaching Standards certification.
